Majorca, Minorca, Ibiza and Formentera: Islands to Enjoy

For the Bank Holiday weekend, from 1st to 4th May, the best of the Balearic Islands will travel to the heart of Manchester so you can discover the marvellous attractions of Majorca, Minorca, Ibiza and Formentera without having to leave the city. For four days, in Albert Square and Market Street, you'll be able to island hop, soaking up the essence of the islands, their landscapes, food, traditions, beaches, culture and folklore.

"Manchester discovers the Balearic Islands" is a free event that will include large marquees located in Albert Square and Market Street where a variety of activities will take place, with something for everyone. There will be a stage for musical performances, demonstrations of Balearic crafts and tastings of food and drink, as well as an arena where nine horses brought over from Minorca especially for the occasion will participate in displays of Minorcan-style dressage. There will also be a family area, information displays about Majorca, Minorca, Ibiza and Formentera, as well as non-stop entertainment with a Balearic parade featuring giants and devils and folk groups from the islands. As you can see, the fun is guaranteed.

As the Balearic Minister for Tourism, I would like to invite you to come and visit us in Albert Square and Market Street to discover exactly what Majorca, Minorca, Ibiza and Formentera have to offer. Take a short holiday without even leaving the city and enjoy a visit to our islands - we look forward to welcoming you with our arms wide open!
